Gratitude for Abundance

Joanna Herren

Let us join in gratitude for the abundance in our lives.

Don Sense – by Rev. Don Garrett

November: What Does It Mean to Be a People of Abundance?

This is the month of Thanksgiving – our culture’s celebration of abundance. We have the cornucopia, turkey dinners (and Tofurky, too!), family and friends. It’s also a time to reflect on the richness of our lives – which can be a countercultural effort because nearly every message we receive tells us to want more, buy more, consume more than ever. We even have economists and politicians telling us that this is our responsibility to drive the engines of prosperity.

Our faith calls us to take a different stand. Sure, we recognize and appreciate the abundance we enjoy, but we’re also called to bear witness to those who do not have enough, the many millions among us whose lives are not celebrations of “too much.” Those whose jobs don’t pay enough to avoid poverty, those without medical care, those for whom abundance might mean, simply, “enough.”

I recall a simple grace that some Christian friends say before every meal: “Lord, bless these gifts we are about to receive and keep us ever mindful of the needs of others.” No matter what our theology, how would reminding ourselves daily to “be mindful of the needs of others” change the way we see things? I invite us all to keep this in mind as we celebrate our abundance. Not just how grateful we are for what we have (although we certainly are), but also remembering those who do not share in the fruits of our culture as fully as we do – and our part in an economic system that denies the basics of life to so many among us.

See you in church.

New Pastoral Care Program Launch!

In an ongoing effort to improve our connections with each other and our Beloved Community, our ministers (Rev. Garrett & Rev. Capoor, our affiliated community minister) have joined in collaboration with Church Family and Hospitality to create a unified system to address the caring needs of our congregation.

Going forward, there will be a single contact point for all pastoral care needs: 484-408-4099 and email at caring@uuclvpa.org. We’ll monitor all calls and contacts, assess the type of response needed, and keep track to ensure timely follow-up as well.

We’re committed to serving everyone in need – just let us know!

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Again, I'd like to liberally paraphrase some ideas I've learned from the UU book "The Almost Church Revitalized" about our church family and why we don't grow. Unitarian Universalism is characterized by:

- Diversity of belief
- Low expectations of membership and charitable giving
- A reliance on reason and intellect
- Personal autonomy
- Traditional forms of worship
- Attempts to be all things to all people
- An abhorrence of evangelism
- Distrust of clergy leadership
- An emphasis on the democratic process
- A hands-off attitude towards encouraging members to lead lives of dedication, commitment and, when necessary, sacrifice for the greater good. Tend to maintain accustomed ways.

Almost nothing on the list appeals to today's church shoppers. They are seeking a church because they are lost or lonely, confused with the country and world situation, are searching for lives of greater meaning and purpose, a place to raise their children and a desire to create a better world. They are yearning to make a commitment.

Churches that are growing have a well-defined agenda, clear articulated purposes, project higher expectations of membership and charitable giving. Progressive churches frequently undertake new ministries and out-reach efforts even when adequate funds are not available.

My feelings are we have a way to go to make our church a progressive church. That's the objective of our Church Planning Committee. They are working on many of these issues.

I hope you will all be a part of establishing our church as a Welcoming Church. There's exciting times ahead. Join a committee and have some fun.

NOVEMBER SHARED PLATE: GLOBAL MAMAS

We are sharing our plate with Global Mommas which is a fair trade community of African women in Ghana who create and sell their clothes and soap to the world at large so their families can thrive and prosper.

NOVEMBER MEN'S GROUP

The next meeting of the UUCLV Men's Group is 6:30 p.m. on Monday, November 6 in the FM kitchen. The discussion topic will be: The era of gene editing has begun. Scientists can now modify defective genes in human embryos that can eliminate heart disease. How far can this technology go? Designer babies? How far should it go? How can we regulate it if necessary?

The UUCLV Men's Group is open to all high school age or older affiliated with the UUCLV and friends regardless of gender. Please bring food and/or beverage to be shared. For more information, contact men@uuclvpa.org or Frank Claps at 610-346-7629.

CPR UPDATE

As of now, more than 30 in the UUCLV family have been certified in the life-saving skill of CPR and use of an AED machine. However, some who were interested in learning these skills could not be accommodated by the previous schedule. If this is you, contact Frank Claps at clapsfrank@gmail.com or 610-346-7629 or in church.

CHURCH WIDE WORK PARTY - SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 4TH!

Our fall work party will take place on Saturday, November 4th starting at 9:00 am. and going until noon, lunch included, rain or shine!

All available helping hands are needed. Both indoor and outdoor projects await. Small odd jobs to be done: leave raking of side yard; trimming of the arborvitaes; installing interior storm insulation window frames; removal of the basketball hoops in gym (men are needed).

Bring a rake and some work gloves – the Property Committee will supply other materials. For more information contact: Dora Davenport (201-247-2427) or doradavenport@msn.com

NOVEMBER BOOK DISCUSSION

The book we are reading for November is Nine Degrees of Desire: The Hidden Story of Islamic Women by Geraldine Brooks. This Pulitzer Prize winning author presents the stories of a wide range of Muslim women in the Middle East. As an Australian American and an experienced foreign correspondent, Brooks' thoughtful analysis empowers us to better understand how women are coping with Islamic fundamentalism. The book was published in 1995 and can be found in libraries. We will meet on Sunday, November 12th after the church service at 12:00 noon in the RE Library. For information contact bookdiscussion@uuclvpa.org.

JOIN US FOR A LINK PIZZA PARTY!

Consider yourself invited to join us for the monthly UU-Link Pizza & Mailing Party on Wednesday, November 22! Every month, volunteers meet in the FM kitchen at 12 noon on the 2nd Wednesday after the 3rd Sunday of the month for Link-folding, labeling, socializing and fresh, delicious pizza from Bethlehem's own Lehigh Pizza.

The next UU-Link mailing party will be held on Wednesday, November 22. If you'd like to join in the fun and help out, just RSVP to the church office at uuclv@uuclvpa.org.

"Where to Invade Next" 2015 Documentary by Michael Moore

Cari Poole, Presenter

In this last segment, we will travel to Norway, Tunisia, Iceland and the Berlin Wall to find answers to Michael Moore's question, what can America learn from these countries' heart-centered approach to justice, education and their commitment to elevating the dignity of all human kind?

FROM THE LIFESPAN EDUCATION COORDINATOR

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION (RE) FOR CHILDREN & YOUTH

Greetings!

The rollout of the new UUCLV web site is on the horizon. The RE committee plans to make the new site more visually interesting with photos and videos. I would like to encourage everyone who has photos to share them with me. All photos of children should be checked by me before they get posted. I will check the faces and names of children against the list of parents who have indicated that they don't want their children's photos published. That list is generated from the RE registration form. There is a check box to request that we not publish photos of their child. If you are a parent who filled out a registration and didn't check the opt-out box but meant to, please contact me and I will put you on the list. We never put a name with a face. I still maintain the RE section of the old web site, so there is much information there – calendar, forms, curricula, etc.

In faith, Jansen Wendell,
Director of Lifespan Religious Education
(lec@uuclvpa.org)

ADULT RELIGIOUS EDUCATION:

INSPIRING OUR ETHICAL AND SPIRITUAL LIFE: AN EXAMINATION OF WORLD RELIGIONS

During our 2017-2018 year, our adult religious education class will examine the religions of the world that give us inspiration to build our ethical and spiritual lives. This class will examine the traditions of Egypt, Iran, India, China, Israel, Arabia and European Christianity. Loosely based on Neighboring Faiths, a UUA curriculum for 5th and 6th graders, Rev. Robin Capoor will present new material from all of these areas. There will be speakers from many of the faith traditions and field trips to their worship services within the Lehigh Valley. The class begins Sunday, September 17th at 9am, in the RE Library. Tell Jansen Wendell (lec@uuclvpa.org) or Rev. Robin Capoor (robincapoor@msn.com) if you're interested.

MINDFULNESS PRACTICE GROUP

(Tuesday evenings, 7:00 – 8:15pm, the Community Room)

With the help of conscious breathing, we are able to touch and be nourished by the peace and joy that are available within and around us, in the here and now. With continued practice, we shall touch and understand the roots of the pain that lie deep within us, such as fear, anger, despair, thus making transformation and healing possible. For more information, contact Rev. Don Garret at minister@uuclvpa.org or Janice Lovegrove at lvjspirit@aol.com .

LONG STRANGE TRIP:

2000 YEARS OF UNITARIAN UNIVERSALIST HISTORY

This set of 6 DVDs is available for loan (limit 2 discs at a time). It traces the history and evolution of Unitarianism, Universalism, and the merger of the two faiths into today's Unitarian Universalism. Find out about how our "Uncommon Denomination", from its roots in the Reformation to the American Revolution to the Civil War to the Transcendentalist Movement to the present. Contact Jansen Wendell to borrow one of them.

NEW PASTORAL CARE HOTLINE & EMAIL!

In order to better serve our members and friends, the Rev. Robin Capoor has volunteered to serve as a clearinghouse for pastoral care concerns. She will work with Rev. Garrett and others to ensure that every need is cared for. Just give her a call at 973-632-3211 or email her at robincapoor@msn.com.

UUCLV SERVICE AUCTION: NOVEMBER 18, 2017

Please join us for our 2017 service auction. NO theme this year because we are keeping it simple. Our evening will start with a happy hour at 4:30pm featuring appetizers, beer, wine, and soft drinks. Then enjoy our pot-luck meal – salad, main dish, side dish, and well as a vast selection of desserts.

Pay attention to our newest category called “I Want What I Want”. This is a way for you to request a service that you want to be done for you at a flat rate that you will then pay to the church. Then if someone agrees to perform the “I Want What I Want” service, the task is done for you and the church gets the funds. A win-win effort!

During the evening be prepared to have simple fun. Fun bidding on the many offers at the auctions as you enjoy a memorable evening. Be sure to experience it all – The Food, The Live Auction, The Silent Auction, The Signups, and I Want What I Want. Admission: $10.00, or $5.00 with a potluck dish for the meal. Children are free and childcare is available with activities for the kids.

What could YOU offer at the auction? If you are planning a specific event, please set a date so people can plan. If the event is for a specific number of people, please tell us. All kinds of offerings and goods are appreciated. If you want someone to pet sit, or drive you to the airport, or help with a house chore, submit your “I Want What I Want” service offer. Our auction page is coming soon to the church website; stand by for more details or contact Dora at auction@uuclvpa.org.

UUCLV OFFICE NOTES

The deadline for the December issue of The UU-Link is, as always, the 3rd Sunday of the month: November. Please submit all articles and text info as Word files to thelink@uuclvpa.org by Sunday evening. Submissions may be edited for length, format, etc.

Please share your changes in address, contact info, etc with Membership at membership@uuclvpa.org, and copy the office at uuclv@uuclvpa.org. This insures that our Church Windows database will be kept up to date

I WANT WHAT I WANT!

As we prepare for our 2017 Service Auction, we are introducing a new category to the experience. “I Want What I Want” is a way to request a service to be performed at a flat rate you’re willing to pay to the church.

For Example:

- I, Dora Davenport, want someone to wash my vehicle (1 time only) and I will pay $10.00 to the church. If you are willing to perform this service, then Dora will pay the church.
- I, Dora Davenport, want someone to help me paint my house shutters and I will pay $50 to the church. Estimated 4 hours’ work.
- I, Robin Capoor, want 2 helpers to work with me to clean and organize the church sanctuary closet in preparation for the elevator installation. I will pay $60 to the church. Estimated 2 hours’ per person for their work.

You can request as many as you like of the same “Want” item and/or submit other wants. But only one person can sign-up to do the task (unless specified otherwise). See how creative you can be in getting what you want! There will be a separate auction table where these “I Want What I Want” sign-up sheets will be arranged.

So, besides requesting an “I Want What I Want” item, please also consider fulfilling one of the requests which will raise our service auction totals.

Please understand that this is a new category. Thanks to Joanna Taczanowsky who suggested this idea. Any questions, please see Dora Davenport, or email her at doradavenport@msn.com or auction@uuclvpa.org.

T-SHIRTS ARRIVE NOVEMBER 5

The STANDING ON THE SIDE OF LOVE t-shirt campaign ended on October 15. We had a great response: 44 shirts ordered! The shirts will be distributed by the Social Action Committee after the service on November 5, in the Community Room. If you are not present on November 5, you can pick up your shirt(s) on subsequent Sundays. Thanks for your support of this initiative; by wearing a Standing on the Side of Love t-shirt, you help to spread the word about the good work of UUCLV and the UUA.

SECOND SUNDAY CONCERT SERIES

The Second Sunday Concert series started off the new season with a blockbuster concert given by the Aletheia Trio, and will be followed on November 12 by a concert performed by an equally outstanding pianist.

Charisse Baldoria, an international prize-winning Filipino pianist, will perform works by Chopin and Debussy, as well as works by Godowsky and Farr, from her new cd, Gamelan on Piano. If the term “Gamelan” is not familiar to you – come on November 12 to hear this highly acclaimed performer, and learn what “Gamelan” is all about (no fair Googling it)!

As usual, you will have an opportunity to meet and talk with the artist at our wonderful post-concert reception. Tickets are $17 general admission; students are free. Sunday, November 12, at 3:00 p.m. in the sanctuary. Tickets will be available at the door, or may be purchased on-line at www.concertseries.uuclvpa.org. They will also be available to purchase after the service on November 5 and 12. We are pleased to partner with WDIY 88.1FM NPR community radio for the 2017-18 concert series.

CONCERT RECEPTION TREATS?

Thanks to all those who brought refreshments to our October 8th reception. Everything was so good and we had just the right amount. Our next concert and reception is on Sunday, November 12th. We would love to have your contribution of a dessert or hors d'oeuvres for this reception, too. Cookies, cheese and crackers, hummus are all suggestions. Let your imagination be your guide!

Please contact Pat Herring at 610-965-6776 or herringp@ptd.net if you are able to contribute. Plan to bring your finger food on a ready to serve plate either the morning of the concert or right before the event; label it “concert”, and place it on the table near the wall in the FM kitchen - not the long center table. Many thanks in advance for your generous help in making our concert series memorable!

THREE COMMANDMENTS: STAY, LEARN, GO

by Jeffrey A. Lockwood

reprinted from UU World Magazine

I'm angry. I'm mad at climate change deniers; I'm upset with environmental deregulation by the Trump administration; I'm furious over the construction of “alternative facts” in the face of physical data. Modern society seems to be hell-bent on enraging those who have a sense of environmental justice. Being angry is exhausting.

So I want to provide a respite and offer a few positive words about humanity and nature.

One of the most evocative poems about our place and future in the natural world is Gary Snyder's “For the Children.” In its final lines, he offers insight as to how we might find our way in a messed-up world:

one word to you, to you and your children:
stay together
learn the flowers
go light

Snyder says “one word,” but then provides three admonitions. First, to survive, or even flourish, in the coming days we must “stay together.” We must restore and sustain human and biological communities. We must literally stay together as people and as a species woven into the web of life. At a personal level, we must integrate the virtues of honesty, compassion, and responsibility. We must keep our lives together— assembled by working hands, informed by wondering minds, and motivated by willing spirits.

This admonition lies at the heart of the Unitarian Universalist engagement with environmental issues. We won't all agree on paper versus plastic or hiking versus gardening, but the center holds. I dearly hope that the same can be said of social justice concerns. As our religion navigates the stormy seas and rocky shoals of racial inequity, I offer the simplest prayer: my friends, stay together.

Next, Snyder tells us to “learn the flowers.” I take this to be both literal and figurative. Indeed, we must come to know the flowers—along with the animals, microbes, waters, and rocks—to know nature and ourselves. Unitarian Universalism calls on us to “heed the guidance of reason and the results of science” in cultivating “respect for the interdependent web of all existence of which we are a part.”

In Genesis, we are told that God created the creatures and Adam named them. Naming is important. We name our children with great devotion to family history, cultural heroes, and personal experience. We learn one another’s names as the first step towards relationality. The same holds for the natural world. It takes time, energy, dedication, and commitment to learn the flowers. It is not easy to see or know in this way, but it is essential if we are to live well.

Taxonomy is a way of knowing, but Snyder tells us to “learn the flowers” not just to learn their names. If you were to learn everything there is to know about any flower—the entire story of its evolution, the full scope of its relationships, the entirety of its beauty—you would possess staggering knowledge, even wisdom. Another poet, William Blake, proposed that we see a heaven in a wildflower. Yes, learn the flowers.

And finally, Snyder reminds us to “go light.” The future is frightening, but little is gained by forecasts of doom. My fellow environmentalists can be a dark and dour lot. In our struggles to change ourselves and thereby change the world, remember to have a light heart, to laugh and play. The leaders of my UU fellowship in Wyoming take their responsibilities seriously, but I’ve seen them laugh while working—and this, perhaps more than anything, is evidence of a healthy community.

Try to go lightly on this Earth. Do as much good and as little harm as you can. To go light on the land means knowing which tree to cut, which insulation to use, which variety to plant, which campsite to occupy. And be sure to go towards the light, towards that which provides warmth and allows you to see your place in the world. Seek goodness while embracing the joy of the here and now. Let us go light.

So then, Gary Snyder’s “one word” includes three elements: stay, learn, and go. These are the essence of being part of a religious and biotic community. I’ve come to understand that physical staying requires knowledge of a place, that moral staying demands humility and conviction, and that spiritual staying requires the discipline to find meaning in the present moment. And I’ve discovered that learning the lessons of nature and life demands long hours of private work and intense moments of public struggle. Finally, I’ve come to realize that to go takes courage, faith, and—most importantly—a vision for oneself, one’s community, and our shared Earth.

HURRICANE VICTIM SUPPORT

As we know, the island of Puerto Rico was devastated by a recent Hurricane. Many residents are fleeing the carnage; many will try to relocate here.

Besides cash donations, the newcomers will need clothing – especially for the winter - and furniture. We can help with both. To donate clothing, please bring items to the church on any Sunday morning and leave them on the stage or a designated area in the Community Room. Do not bring them during the week because there is no storage space. We will pick up the clothes that day.

If you have furniture to donate, contact furniture bank Outreach Depot at 610-351-1616 or bring items to the bank yourself – 619 E. Allen St., Allentown. Questions? Contact Judy or Frank Claps at judithclaps@gmail.com, clapsfrank@gmail.com or 610-346-7629; or Fran or John Kennedy at franhkenn@yahoo.com,
